Sakatpur Village, Gurgaon

On a very foggy and cold morning we drove to Sakatpur Village to organize Free Eye Camp. Pamphlets were distributed weeks ahead announcing the camp to Sakapur and neighbouring villages. Camp site i.e. the site of 1000 Buddha Hall of World Buddhist Culture Trust was prepared. Camp tent and arrangement were done the night before. A day head, camp banners were put up at the site and few other places.

The medical team from ICare Hospital in Noida headed by doctor Shipra, Optometrist including Anug (Senior Field Assistant), three other field assistants: Tanuj, Vikash Kanojiya and Parveen arrived the camp site a bit late due to the foggy weather condition.

As the team had a long drive of about 1.5 hours to reach the camp site, the first thing we did was to welcomed them to a hot cup of tea and refreshments to boost their energy. This was followed by a quick set up of their medical equipment and we started with registration and simultaneously the doctor examined the patients in turn.

A good number of patients turned up from Sakatpur and neighbouring villages like Palra, Noorpur, Tikli and Sikopur. People without Aadhaar card as identity were although seen and given treatment yet they were not included in the registration list. So, a total of 80 patients were registered and prescribed treatment out of which 66 patients were given free spectacles and eye drops.

At 1 pm, we had a short lunch break and lunch boxes from nearby Haldiram outlet was arranged for the camp team and organisers. 8 patients namely: Girdhari Lal (Male age 59), Pohap Singh (Male age 62), Munesh (Female age 51), Om Bati (Female age 57), Rameshvri Devi (Female age 48), Bhaleri (Female age 63), Braham Prakash (Male age 52) and Indrawati Devi (Female age 63) were diagnosed with cataract. Indrawati Devi's sugar was not under control, so only 8 out of 9 patients were able to avail free surgery from this camp. Patients were taken in the hospital van to Noida directly from the camp site.

The Secretary-cum-Trustee of World Buddhist Culture Trust thanked each member of the team from ICARE hospital for their participation in the camp.

Total people benefited from this camp 80.
